PacArctic LLC Wins U.S. Fish and Wildlife Contract in Colorado

Chantilly, VA (July 31, 2017) – PacArctic LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of Koniag, Inc., recently won a four-year contract with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (FWS) in Ft. Collins, Colorado. The PacArctic team will be supporting the Inventory and Monitoring (I&M) Initiative for the National Wildlife Refuge System (NWRS) by providing Database Technician and Geographic Information Systems (GIS) support services to the NWRS and Region 8 of FWS. This contract win represents the company’s first Colorado-based contract and the first with FWS.

“We are excited about the opportunity to broaden our technical service offering and geographical reach to support vital natural resources management,” said PacArctic President, Geoff Wheeler, from the company’s newly established Denver office. “We look forward to working with Fish and Wildlife for many years to come.”
